

Guilherme M. Miranda

<https://github.com/elf-alchemist>

Natal, RN, Brazil

alchemist.software@proton.me

Summary

Hi, I'm Guilherme, a self-taught brazilian programmer with a passion for learning. I have developed my personal interest in tech and software since early 2022, and have been steadily growing myself as a developer ever since. I'm deeply in love with this field and want keep moving forward and improving myself as much as I can.

Professional Experience

November 2022 - November 2023

Junior Developer, Cactus Systems – Natal, Rio Grande do Norte, Brazil

Worked as a trainee and junior Back-end Web Developer building a company internal tool. Comprised of a micro-service oriented, AWS Lambda, NodeJS and Typescript based tech stack, running an internal Dashboard application for analysing advertisement performance metrics. Gained important communication skills in this position, being the primary actor for most of the time I worked in the project, I learned how to communicate information with our client, express issues with our lead and knowing when to ask for the help of my peers, constantly maintaining productivity.